

Lockdown in a Global Pandemic

At the shops one-way systems were put in place,
And masks were essential and used on your face,
Shop shelves were being emptied quickly,
Hand sanitizer was used so you don't get quite sickly.

People were getting excited for their holiday,
Now they're losing hope day by day,
At home we can't see anyone,
There is nothing to do - there is no fun.

Unfortunately, we ended up having Christmas without any family,
Which left several family members dismal and in agony,
When we weren't feeling the best, we couldn't get a hug,
And our siblings just sat there watching us all smug.

While we were working hard, doing home learning,
Flats in Kennington were sadly burning,
Days go by and now at last it's my birthday,
So, I decided to put on my favourite style of music, reggae!
