

The Seasons

Christmas has been blown away,
While the Chinese New Year has come to an end,
Easter is coming every year,
And the next year has made its way to attend.

Winter has made its way these years,
While Spring has opened up,
How quickly summer will come,
But Autumn has given Summer a good rub.

Why home learning for all the kids out there?
It has been extremely difficult for all of them,

All the anger and sadness,
And their eyes, just like white gems.

They keep on looking to the future,
Happy or sad they try to persevere,
Remember to keep on believing in the seasons,
And to keep on listening, and to hear.

By George Gan – Year 6

4-3-21

