

The Contagion That Gripped The World.

At the beginning of the coronavirus,
While Everyone was panic buying hand sanitiser and toilet paper,
A new community rose called the dream SMP,
A private role-play Minecraft server started by the one and only DREAM!

During lockdown everyone was frightened,
I didn't know what was going on,
I just thought it was a miniature thing,
And it would soon leave.

In lockdown schools had to shut and home schooling started,
On the first day I did excellent but after more and more of it, I got exhausted,
I started wishing schools would open again,
Even though it is exhausting.

I am hoping the Coronavirus will soothe down and that it will all go back to usual,
Right now I am back in school and seeing my friends,
I am ecstatic but not satisfied,
As the coronavirus hasn't left and doesn't know its place.
